

Lisa Colon is a partner in the Fort Lauderdale office of Smith Currie & Hancock LLP. Lisa is Board Certified in Construction law by the Florida Bar. She is also a Certified Mediator and Arbitrator. Lisa represents her clients in all matters of public and private construction, real estate development and local government contracting issues. Lisa is deeply immersed in matters relating to small and disadvantaged business programs.

Lisa lectures on a variety of construction, government contracting and real estate industry topics. She serves as General Counsel for the National Association of Minority Contractors. She advocates for diversity in the construction industry.

Lisa is a fellow of the Construction Lawyers Society of America and a former fellow of the American Bar Association, Forum on Construction Law. She was recognized as a Super Lawyer Rising Star in 2012. Lisa received her B.A. from the University of Miami and her J.D., cum laude from the University of Miami School of Law.