Welcome to the very first ICDR Y&I Networking Session in Singapore. Grab some breakfast to kickstart the mid-week with your fellow colleagues and arbitration practitioners before playing a few rounds of "Would you rather?" to learn more about their choices in a relaxed and informal environment. Would you rather have virtual or in-person hearings? Would you rather specialize in a specific sector for disputes or take a wider range of cases? Senior practitioners will start the game by sharing some of their perspectives and tips, while also encouraging an open exchange among attendees. This promises to be an engaging way to continue building your global network as you progress along your career path. It's time to play 'Arbitration Edition: Would You Rather?' and see where your arbitrator's heart truly lies!
