

Iman Hyder-Eliz

Iman Hyder-Eliz joined the American Arbitration Association in 2017 as a Director of ADR Services for the AAA's Commercial Division for the area covering North Texas and Oklahoma. She recently became a Regional Vice President for the Construction Division and is now based in Atlanta. She is primarily responsible for administering Large Complex cases. Her duties also include outreach and education initiatives both internally and externally at the AAA. She is also involved in working on the AAA's Panel Diversity Initiative. Prior to joining the AAA she three years as a Family Law mediator and one year mediating Real Estate issues. Iman is a native of the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Education: Master's Degree in Dispute Resolution and Conflict Management from Southern Methodist University; BA in Political Science (Political Theory) from the University of Texas at Dallas