About the ICDR-AAA EU-U.S. Privacy Shield and Swiss-U.S. Privacy Shield Program

Both the EU-U.S. and Swiss-U.S. Privacy Shield Frameworks make clear that participating companies must have in place appropriate independent recourse mechanisms to ensure compliance with the privacy principles of both programs. U.S. companies must identify their organization's Independent Recourse Mechanism. Under the Privacy Shield frameworks' Recourse, Enforcement and Liability Principle, self-certifying organizations must provide an independent recourse mechanism available to investigate unresolved complaints at no cost to the individual.

For information on how a company may designate the ICDR-AAA as its independent recourse mechanism and on the EU-U.S. and Swiss-U.S. Privacy Shield program please review the Program Information document located in the Additional Information Section at the following link for this program: <http://go.adr.org/privacyshield.html>. Companies selecting the ICDR-AAA as their independent recourse mechanism are required to use the following link for this program: <http://go.adr.org/privacyshield.html>. The ICDR-AAA in its IRM capacity provides the following international arbitration services to resolve any complaints pursuant to these two Privacy Shield programs at no cost to the EU and Swiss national.

3. Upon receipt of the Demand for Arbitration, the ICDR will make an initial Determination, subject to the appointed arbitrator(s) final determination, regarding the eligibility of the complaint pursuant to the EU-U.S. or Swiss-U.S. Privacy Shield programs and if deemed eligible, the ICDR-AAA shall prepare a dated letter of initiation that will be communicated to the parties with respect to the arbitration and shall acknowledge the commencement of the arbitration.
 - Eligibility complaint requirements shall include 1) complainant is an EU or Swiss individual (i.e., individual submitting on his/her own behalf or on behalf of a minor of whom the individual is the parent or guardian); (2) complaint concerns an organization enrolled in the ICDR-AAA IRM's Privacy Shield-related dispute resolution program; (3) complaint concerns an organization participating in the DOC-administered Privacy Shield program; and (4) complaint alleges that an organization has violated the Privacy Shield Principles with respect to complainant's own personal data (i.e., individual's own personal data or personal data of the minor of whom the individual is the parent or guardian).
4. Within thirty (30) days after the commencement of the arbitration, a respondent shall submit a written statement of defense and/or counterclaim utilizing AAA WebFile® or by e-mail and attaching copies of the supporting documents the respondent wishes to enter into evidence. When no statement of defense is filed to a claim or counterclaim, such claim or counterclaim shall be deemed as denied by the opposing party. All communications will be by email unless otherwise agreed by the parties or as directed by the arbitrator.
5. Once the statement of defense and/or counterclaim is received or after thirty (30) days have passed without a statement of defense and/or counterclaim or statement of defense to counterclaim, the ICDR-AAA will proceed with administration by appointing a single arbitrator and notifying the parties of the arbitrator's name and any disclosures by email. The parties may object to the arbitrator's appointment within seventy-two (72) hours of the arbitrator's appointment. If no objection has been received by ICDR within seventy-two (72) hours, the arbitrator will be reaffirmed. In the event of an objection, ICDR will invite comments from the other party and then either reaffirm the arbitrator or appoint a new arbitrator.
6. The ICDR case manager, once the arbitrator is appointed, will schedule an administrative conference call with the parties and the arbitrator to discuss the process, scheduling of any additional submissions, the applicable rules, and clarifying all procedural issues. The arbitration shall be conducted on documents only and there shall not be any hearings in person unless otherwise agreed by the parties or as directed by the arbitrator.

7. The arbitrator shall make a determination based upon the documents submitted by the parties. In extraordinary circumstances, the arbitrator may request additional evidence from the parties.
8. The award of the arbitrator shall specify the remedies and sanctions as contemplated by the Privacy Shield Frameworks. The award shall state the reasons upon which the award is based.
9. While the process will be based on documents only without any hearings in person, the place of arbitration for purposes of the award shall be New York, New York. The language of the arbitration shall be determined by the arbitrator.
10. The award of the arbitrator shall be final and binding upon the Parties and shall constitute a duly executed award for purposes of enforcement.

About the ICDR-AAA

The AAA is a not-for-profit public service organization with offices throughout the U.S. and abroad. Founded in 1926, the AAA has a long history and extensive experience in the field of alternative dispute resolution (ADR), providing services to individuals, government entities, corporations, unions and organizations that wish to resolve conflicts. In 1996, the AAA's international operations were consolidated into the ICDR. The ICDR is headquartered in New York City, and has offices elsewhere within the United States, as well as in Singapore that are staffed with multilingual case administrators and attorneys with expertise in international ADR with a commitment to service and sensitivity to culture.

The ICDR provides a full range of conflict management services to businesses, government agencies, and other organizations around the world. These services are supported by a network of cooperative agreements with other arbitration institutions and key alliances located around the globe, which enable us to provide international administrative services and educational initiatives for parties to cases we administer from over 90 countries. The ICDR currently has cooperative agreements with 87 other arbitral institutions in 54 countries, 18 of which are located in EU member countries, and an additional agreement with an institution in Switzerland. As a result, the ICDR is able to draw upon the assistance of these other institutions to provide additional hearing facilities, arbitrators, and important updates on local arbitration frameworks from these countries. In 2020 alone, 704 international cases were filed with the AAA-ICDR. Further, the ICDR maintains a roster of over 750 experienced and expert arbitrators from around the world, and is able to access the thousands of arbitrators that are maintained on the AAA's domestic roster. The aforementioned network of national ADR alliances, coupled with the ICDR's experience, technology, flexibility and expertise make us uniquely capable to provide its IRM services for both the EU-U.S. and Swiss-U.S. Privacy Shield programs.
